THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE WATER WORKS WARMLY OPPOSED.

The Legality of the Call Questioned-Lively Debate in Which Both Sides Used Sharp Words-Adjournment for One Week.

Take the necessary money. Even if the money was, voted for these improve-ments, the interest to be paid by the city next year would be $500 less than last year. He thought the people would be foolish to neglect the matter. It had been noised abroad that Burlington had im-ture water and it would arrivable for the pure water and it would advisable for this reason alone to make the improvements. It would cost each laboring man but two cents a year to have the work done and there was no one who could not afford

THAT SUNDAY EXCURSION.

The Methods of its Projectors Exposed-Its Prompt Suppression.

The facts about the Sunday excursion from Plattsburgh which did not come off Sanday, as related to us, are as follows Mayor Woodbury then read resolutions defining the intention of the committee in relation to the water works. The mayor said he had received offers for bonds so that the interest on them would be over 1.3 s per cent. He hoped the matter would not be dismissed. would not be dismissed.

Mr. Safford said he was in favor of better water, but the amount which it was proposed to expend would pay one-third of the expense of getting water from Hinesburgh pound. If the money was to be expended he was in tayor of raising the money now by a tax and not bond the city. Some of the Burlington directors, who Mayor Woodbury thought it was better a pay interest of 3.3.8 per cent than to disc a tax of $30,030 at once. It was evient that the principal opposition to the permission for any such use of the Reindeer raise a tax of $80,000 at once. It was evident that the principal oposition to the improvements came from those who put how it would affect them materially.

Alderman Pelice moved that when the vote was taken on the dismissal of the article that it be taken by a rising vote.

C. J. Alizer expressed the option that nothing could be done levally mider the question whether the improvements should be made or not.

Win O'Neil moved that the meeting addition without date, which was seconded by many of the same place.

How W. G. Shaw thought that the meeting addition without date, which was seconded by the call, as they were not mentioned in the call. It mentioned only the idea of raising money for the purpose—an entirely different matter. He nepel the meeting would not adjourn without acting on that would not adjourn without acting on that point of the call, as the question should be thoroughly understood. If another meeting was called the call should be formed to a company, and said the protest or the part of the part of the signers was such as to entire the protest of the part of the protest against any such violation of the Sation should be offered to protest against any such violation of the Sation of the Pailharmonic Society was taken on the distinct of the protest of the part of the part of the part of the sunday different matter. So, though its projectors had mean-while got out a hand bill announcing that while got out a hand bill announcing that this time in reference to the time of calling a meeting, but as to the nature of the call. The call did not state how it was proposed to raise the money and any action under the call would not be legal.

Asking the indulgence of the mover of the pending motion, the mayor said before the interposition of the continuity can object. It has been thus far a well managed and from W. G. Shaw and Hon, Henry Bellard might be appointed to consider the logality of the total of a state of a sacret concert by the Platsburgh logs. The attendance was unusually large for a city meeting and considerable interest was manifested. The meeting was called to order by City Clerk Pease, who read the petition and warning for the meeting, i.e. W. Henry was elected chairman at City Clerk Pease acted as clerk. The petition of the improvements to the water works having been called up A. G. Satford moved to dismiss the article of the warning refering to that inatter and the motion was escended.

Mayor Woodbury said it might be proper for him to give a brief history of the matter. The water committee had recommended to build a new reservoir, new fuel said and extend the sunply main. 280 feet in the commendation but it was found that a city meeting would have to be called to passe the necessary money. Even if the money was, voted for these improvements, the interest to be paid by the city next year would be solve less than a proportion of the improvements in that article in regard to myself,—which make me one of the garded to myself,—which make me one of the garded to myself,—which make me one of the garded to the 34th Congress, as such at the particular. I was not the par in the legislative branch of the government. It is another remarkable fact, and one of which the people of his State and the country may well be proud, that through a legislative experience of a third of a century—during much of which time he has been at the head of the two most important committees, that of ways and means in the House, and of finance in the Senate—his reputation for purity of personal character and indexible official integrity has never been assailed by even the whispered breath of rumor. He remarked to a friend who sat by his bedshife a few minutes this morning, that while itying, as he supposed, under the shadow of the wing of death, it was a comforting reflection to him that in all his public life he had never acted with insincerity, made the speech of a demagogue, or advocated or opposed a measure that did not receive the sanction of his judgment and the approval of his conscience. We rejoice that his life is sparred to the nation, it is a misfortune to humanity that such men should die or grow old.
